Course Overview

This section gives you an introduction to what you will be learning in this course, plus course outcomes, career opportunities, and student support.

Introduction

Under Marine Order 505 \(Certificates of competency – national law\) 2022, a seafarer must pass a final assessment before the Australian Maritime Safety Authority (AMSA) can issue them a certificate of competency.

You must complete the required training and the AMSA Mandated Practical Assessment (AMPA) before applying to AMSA for your Certificate of Competency. The AMPA assesses practical operational skills, knowledge and understanding of maritime legislation and must be completed through an AMSA-approved Registered Training Organisation.

Upon successful completion, you can apply for a Master up to 24m Near Coastal Certificate of Competency with AMSA and pursue employment opportunities across the maritime industry.

What will I Learn?

As part of this course, you will complete an AMPA Mandated Practical Assessment (AMPA) required for a Master up to 24m Near Coastal Certificate of Competency.

The AMPA assesses your practical vessel operation skills, as well as your knowledge and understanding of Australian maritime legislation. The AMPA must be completed before applying to AMSA for your Certificate of Competency.

The AMPA must be completed within 12 months of the first assessed task and remains valid for 12 months from the date the assessor signs it off.

Course Outcomes and Career Opportunities

Upon completing this course, you may find employment in a range of maritime and marine industry roles, including:
